glimpse into the exquisite architectural works of innovative and skilled contemporary classicists this beautifully illustrated tour of america s houses begins in 1640 with the early roots of american style a combination of european skill and attitude combined with american know how this architectural journey continues on through the 18th and 19th centuries through the greek revival the americanization of the gothic revival and the early colonial revival the houses of the 20th century are the main attraction as house styles in america delves into the major movements in the romantic revivals of the 1920s and 1930s english french and spanish replete with 200 color photographs this architectural journey is an essential and beautiful guide for realtors tourists and students of architecture long before designing his signature usonian houses frank lloyd wright envisioned an earlier series of affordable models for the middle class the american system built homes he developed seven floorplans of varying size and layout standardized so that materials could be pre-cut at the factory to reduce costs only a few years after the project began the united states entered world war i and all home construction was stalled due to lumber shortages wright then turned his attention to other projects and with fewer than twenty built the american system built homes were all but forgotten in 2011 jason loper and michael schreiber purchased the only american system built home constructed in iowa the meier house which set them on a course of refurbishing and researching their new residence in this american house loper and schreiber trace the history of the meier house through its previous owners and shed light on this underexplored period of wright s oeuvre with a preface by john h waters the preservation programs manager of the frank lloyd wright conservancy this american house addresses what it means to be the stewards of a piece of history anne fairfax and richard sammons are at the forefront of a movement among architects today who draw inspiration from the wellspring of the classical traditions in architecture they have developed a body of work that reflects and adheres to the long held theories of proportion and order passed down through many past generations of scholarship and practice the firm s office also served as the headquarters for henry hope reid s classical america the only organization offering an alternative to modernist aesthetics until the establishment of the institute of classical architecture in 1992 the twenty four projects in this volume show the firm s consistent focus on classical architectural beauty whether the chosen style be palladian tuscan mediterranean georgian adamesque neo classical british or dutch colonial colonial revival or even east coast shingle style in all of which fairfax sammons are eminently proficient the projects selected out of the firm s large body of work include country houses located in connecticut new york virginia and florida including the renovation of town houses and apartments in new york city all presented in new color photography when edgar allan poe set down the tale of the accursed house of usher in 1839 he also laid the foundation for a literary tradition that has assumed a lasting role in american culture the house of usher and its literary progeny have not lacked for tenants in the century and a half since writers from nathaniel hawthorne to stephen king have taken rooms in the haunted houses of american fiction dale bailey traces the haunted house tale from its origins in english gothic fiction to the paperback potboilers of the present highlighting the unique significance of the house in the domestic economic and social ideologies of our nation the author concludes that the haunted house has become a powerful and profoundly subversive symbol of everything that has gone nightmarishly awry in the american dream what is a house and what can architecture tell us about individual psychology national character and aspiration the house holds a central place in american mythology as marilyn chandler demonstrates in a series of house tours through american novels beginning with thoreau s walden and ending with toni morrison s beloved and marilynne robinson s housekeeping chandler illuminates the complex analogies between house and psyche house and family house and social environment and house and text she traces a historical path from settlement to unsettledness in american culture and explores all the rituals in between of building decorating inhabiting and abandoning houses she notes the ambivalence between our desire for rootedness and our romanticization of wide open spaces relating these poles to the tension between materialism and spirituality in our national character at a time when housing has become a problem of unprecedented dimensions in america this look at the place of houses and homes in the american imagination reveals some sources of the attitudes assumptions and expectations that underlie the designing and building of the homes we buy sell and dream about this title is part of uc press s voices revived program third in a series vernacular architecture studies focused on introductory texts on aspects of material culture often aimed at non specialists more than three hundred historically accurate line drawings highlight this concise informative guide to the styles and history of american houses from pre revolutionary days to the present explores the changing architectural styles found in american houses from colonial days to the present chicken both the bird and the food has played multiple roles in the lives of african american women from the slavery era to the present it has provided food and a source of income for their families shaped a distinctive culture and helped women define and exert themselves in racist and hostile environments psyche a williams forson examines the complexity of black women s legacies using food as a form of cultural work while acknowledging the negative interpretations of black culture associated with chicken imagery williams forson focuses her analysis on the ways black women have forged their own self definitions and relationships to the gospel bird exploring material ranging from personal interviews to the comedy of chris rock from commercial advertisements to the art of kara walker and from cookbooks to literature williams

Forson considers how black women arrive at degrees of self definition and self reliance using certain foods she demonstrates how they defy conventional representations of blackness and exercise influence through food preparation and distribution understanding these complex relationships clarifies how present associations of blacks and chicken are rooted in a past that is fraught with both racism and agency the traditions and practices of feminism williams forson argues are inherent in the foods women prepare and serve this volume presents twenty seven contemporary residences spanning the entire stylistic spectrum and thoroughly documented with color photography the united states has always had a great number of stone houses subject to regional and stylistic variations as author lee goff writes in her comprehensive introduction that history and variety are alive today as houses of stone continue to appear in myriad guises classical modern vernacular postmodern throughout the country in fact goff concludes that a new renaissance of stone houses is at hand the exceptional residences in this book by such renowned architects as hardy holzman pfeiffer will bruder 1100 architect bohlin cywinski jackson lake flato and kohn pedersen fox provide ample evidence of this renaissance goff discusses with each architect the design of each house focusing on the decision to use stone the building process and other related choices while color photographs illustrate both exteriors and interiors albert righter tittman architects create finely crafted houses that pay homage to classic american house styles yet are adapted with skill mastery and a good dose of irreverence to suit contemporary american life at first glance their cambridge cupola house looks like a typical mid 19th century greek revival house but on closer inspection one realizes that nothing is quite where it should be the grand cupola topped rotunda entrance for instance is located not in the front but on the side of the house the reason to increase the living space for the inhabitants richly illustrated with specially commissioned photographs as well as with plans drawings and watercolours this sumptuous volume celebrates art's timeless innovative designs and explores the historical styles on which they are based from classical to shingle from carpenter gothic to cape focusing on the superb craftsmanship and exquisite detailing of art's exteriors interiors and outbuildings each chapter features one or more sidebars highlighting their inventive use of architectural elements including columns fireplaces balustrades and moldings it will be a trove of design ideas for professionals and homeowners alike an intimate beautifully written coming of age memoir a young girl's journey from war torn vietnam to ridgewood queens and her struggle to find her voice amid clashing cultural expectations ly tran is just a toddler in 1993 when she and her family emigrate from a small town along the mekong river in vietnam to a two bedroom railroad apartment in ridgewood queens ly's father a former lieutenant in the south vietnamese army spent nearly a decade as a POW and their resettlement is made possible through a humanitarian program run by the US government soon after they arrive ly joins her parents and three older brothers in sewing ties and cummerbunds piecemeal on their living room floor to make ends meet as they navigate this new landscape ly finds herself torn between two worlds she knows she must honor her parents buddhist faith and contribute to the family livelihood working long hours at home and then later as a manicurist alongside her mother at a nail salon in brownsville brooklyn which her parents eventually take over but at school ly feels the mounting pressure to blend in a growing inability to see the blackboard presents new challenges especially when her father forbids her from getting glasses calling her diagnosis of poor vision a government conspiracy his frightening temper and paranoia leave an indelible mark on ly's sense of self who is she outside of everything her family expects of her told in a spare evocative voice that with flashes of humor weaves together her family's immigration experience with her own fraught and courageous coming of age house of sticks is a timely and powerful portrait of one girl's struggle to reckon with her heritage and forge her own path shows over 2500 images of classic american homes and architecture from the 1880s to the 1980s many homes across america have designs based on plans taken from pattern books or mail order catalogs in houses from books daniel d reiff traces the history of published plans and offers the first comprehensive survey of their influence on the structure and the style of american houses from 1738 to 1950 houses from books shows that architectural publications from palladio's quattro libri to aladdin's ready cut homes played a decisive role in every aspect of american domestic building reiff discusses the people and the firms who produced the books as well as the ways in which builders and architects adapted the designs in communities throughout the country his book also offers a wide ranging analysis of the economic and social conditions shaping american building practices as architectural publication developed and grew more sophisticated it played an increasingly prominent part in the design and the construction of domestic buildings in villages and small towns which often did not have professional architects the publications became basic resources for carpenters and builders at all levels of expertise through the use of published designs they were able to choose among a variety of plans styles and individual motifs and engage in a fruitful dialogue with past and present architects houses from books reconstructs this dialogue by examining the links between the published designs and the houses themselves reiff's book will be indispensable to architectural historians architects preservationists and regional historians realtors and homeowners will also find it of great interest a catalog at the end of the book can function as a guide for those attempting to locate a model and a date for a particular design houses from books contains a wealth of photographs many by the author that enhance its importance as a history and guide collection of contemporary residential designs seen across the united states today with residential designs by leading architects from across the united states illuminated with rarely seen photographs and detailed plans and underlines the sensitivity of today's architects to the natural environment as well as the care and attention paid to interior design and everyday living each project illustrates how architects adapt their designs to accommodate the challenges posed by the local topography and variations in climate along with a sharp focus on optimum strategies for sustainable living be it across small boutique projects to large scale luxury abodes provided by publisher beginning with the earliest and relatively simple houses the author traces changes in food spaces through the years noting a steady escalation in the number of food related rooms along the way she considers multiple circumstances that shed light on this evolution including the role of gender in determining food space design the relation of food spaces to nature and the telling ways in which people and food circulate through kitchens and dining rooms because cromley is interested not only in how designed spaces look but how they are used she cites a wealth of primary sources autobiographies travel journals household diaries letters and inventories in her exploration of the habits surrounding all aspects of food in the home book jacket
